The image displays three automotive woven clutch facings. Two are curved into a semi-circle, showing their outer friction surface which has a dark, textured woven pattern with some lighter-colored spots. The third facing is flat and positioned in the foreground, revealing its internal structure: a central hub with several segments, surrounded by a wider ring with radial lines. The text 'WOVEN CLUTCH FACINGS' is centered over the image in a bold, blue, sans-serif font with a white outline.
